

TRAVEL

WINTER IN JACKSON, WYOMING | TRAVEL GUIDE

02.02.18

WHERE TO EAT:

Now, this finally brings us to my favorite part...the food! I was really impressed with the quality and freshness of everything we had on our trip. My only regret is that I didn't take more pictures for you guys but to be honest, I was so hungry after skiing and all of our adventures that I just dug right in. But here is everywhere we ate and some menu standouts you have to try.

- Il Villaggio Osteria – A rustic Italian spot with delicious homemade pastas that is not to be missed! It's nice to have another option other than "farm to table" (even though most of these ingredients are also locally sourced).
- Bar Enoteca – Come here for sophisticated and delicious après that are perfect after a day on the slopes. We had a ricotta dish that I could live off for the rest of my life and a selection of the day's fresh fish carpaccio was so light and refreshing. They also had a few bruschetta offerings that were amazing too. Try the n'duja and goat cheese for a little kick and a lot of flavor.